I love this place and its food! It's my favourite café in Santa Fe city. This place is perfect for you if you want to drink good coffee and eat delicious alfajores.

Here you can choose from a wide range of food and you can enjoy a tasty and abundant breakfast. The place is very quiet, so you can read a book, the newspaper or have a great conversation with your partner while eating a sandwich. Workers are kind and considerate, they add some magic to the place. I recommend Gayalí because it is an ideal café to go with your family.

If you are visiting Santa Fe, you can't miss the opportunity to visit this iconic café on San Martín street.
