Conclusion : Put the sentences of the paragraph(s) in the correct order. Write the correct line number in front of the sentences.

1. One's attitude determines one's success.

___ Therefore, a positive mindset is one of the key ingredients for a successful future.
___ In conclusion, having a positive attitude is essential for achieving success in life.
___ This is because it enables people to face difficulties with confidence, maintain their determination and build meaningful connections with others.

2. Smartphones help students in their learning process.

___ They allow learners to obtain information quickly, participate in engaging learning activities and communicate more effectively with their teachers.
___ Hence, smartphones can make learning more convenient, effective and enjoyable.
___ To sum up, smartphones are valuable tools that can support students in their educational journey.

3. Industrialisation propels a nation.

___ It provides more job opportunities, strengthens the country's economy and enhances people's quality of life.
___ Thus, industrialisation should be encouraged as it contributes greatly to a nation's progress and prosperity.
___ Conclusively, industrialisation is a major driving force behind national development.

4. Young people today face more challenges in life.

___ They experience greater demands in their studies, struggle with rising living expenses and face harmful influences from social networking platforms.
___ Therefore, young people need proper guidance and support to overcome these challenges and prepare for a better future.
___ In short, modern young people have to deal with various difficulties in their daily lives.

5. Technology nowadays has made people become ignorant.

___ Therefore, people should use technology wisely without allowing it to control their daily lives.
___ All in all, the advancement of modern technology has contributed to people's growing ignorance.
___ Their excessive reliance on electronic devices, declining interest in personal interactions and lack of attention to their environment have become worrying issues.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

6. Mothers should quit their jobs to be stay-at-home mums.

___ Ultimately, every mother should be allowed to make the decision that best suits her family's needs.
___ To summarise, becoming a stay-at-home mother can be a beneficial choice for women who wish to prioritise their families.
___ It allows them to give greater attention to their children's needs, handle domestic duties more efficiently and spend more quality time with their loved ones.

7. Fake news is widespread.

___ Social networking platforms enable misleading stories to circulate quickly, many users fail to verify the information they receive and some people deliberately spread false stories to influence others.
___ Therefore, everyone should practise responsible information sharing to prevent the further spread of fake news.
___ Overall, the spread of false information has become a serious problem in modern society.

8. Selecting the right university is crucial for students' future.

___ Hence, students should carefully evaluate their university choices before making this life-changing decision.
___ In sum, selecting a suitable university is an important decision that can shape students' future success.
___ The right institution offers excellent academic programmes, opens doors to promising employment prospects and helps students develop essential life skills.

9. People nowadays have overemphasised physical beauty.

___ Ultimately, people should learn to appreciate inner qualities rather than judge others based solely on their physical appearance.
___ In conclusion, society has become overly focused on outward appearance.
___ Unrealistic expectations of attractiveness, the pressure created by online platforms and the increasing demand for beauty enhancements have contributed to this issue.

10. Family is important in life.

___ Therefore, everyone should appreciate and cherish their family because it is one of the greatest sources of love and support.
___ To summarise, family remains one of the most important aspects of human life.
___ Family members offer comfort during difficult times, help one another financially and teach valuable principles that guide individuals throughout their lives.

LIVEWORKSHEETS