A SCHOOL CLUB FOR HAPPIER TEENAGERS

Many teenagers spend much of their leisure time online. At Riverdale Secondary School, teachers started a club to help students enjoy different activities and deal with stress. The club meets on Wednesday afternoons. Students play badminton, make simple crafts, and share ideas about their hobbies.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Minh joined the club two months ago. He used to check social media late at night and often felt tired the next morning. After talking to his friends, he decided to turn off his phone before bedtime. He also learned that joining outdoor activities has many benefits, including better health and new friendships.

Schoolwork can still be stressful, especially before important tests. However, the club gives members a chance to talk openly and support one another. Minh now feels more confident about managing his time. He still enjoys using his phone, but he knows when to put it away. Other students say that learning this balance is one of the most useful lessons they have gained.
