LEE LOS TIPS PARA UNA BUENA VIDEO REVIEW Y UNE LAS COLUMNAS.

plan what to say and show	use posters, captions, screenshots, or stickers to support what you are saying.
write a script:	make sure your voice can be heard clearly and avoid background noise.
find a good background:	decide what you will say aloud and what information or visuals will appear on screen.
sound is important:	choose an appropriate, well-lit place for your video.
be brief	prepare what you're going to say. do not improvise.
add visual elements:	videos shouldn't be longer than 3 minutes.

WHODUNIT?

A whodunit or whodunnit (who has done it?) is a type of detective story that focuses on the question: "who committed the crime?".

The investigation is usually conducted by an eccentric detective in an isolated location, where anyone in a small number of suspects can be the killer.
