

I started lessons at my new school last week. The institution is in the centre of the city, near my house so I go on foot. That's great!

What do you like doing on Saturday?

My family and I arrived in London last month and we moved to our new apartment. It's got three bedrooms. They're enormous! I love the living room because there is a big smart TV and I can listen to music there. The kitchen is small but it's really comfortable. There's a small terrace, too!

Dear Eleanor,

Thank you for your letter! I'm in London at the moment. Everything is fine here.

How do you go to school? Does your father take you or do you go by bus?

Love,
Damien.

My new classmates are very friendly and my teacher seems to be very interesting. We all work very hard – classes start at eight and they usually finish at four in the afternoon. My only free time is at the weekend! I love walking the dog in the park near my house.

Write to me soon and tell me all your news.
