Actors, directors and camera operators are people who make films. They sometimes work in different places or different countries. Builders build houses which are all over the town. Fire officers also work in different parts of town. Sometimes they work in a fire station and sometimes they go to a sports centre, a theatre or a town hall. They help when there's a fire and they check that buildings are safe.

I'd love to work in different places, too. I want to be an ambulance driver. An ambulance driver is a person that helps people. Often the people are hurt. They have to go to hospital, where a doctor can help them. An ambulance driver is the person who takes people to the hospital. There are special clothes which ambulance drivers wear. Ambulance drivers travel around a lot. That's one reason why I want to be an ambulance driver.
