I ♥ MATHS

Mandy: Maths is much easier for me now than other subjects like languages, but I found it hard when I started. My older sister isn't keen on maths, so my parents are pleased that I like it so much. Mr James is my maths teacher. We all talk about maths problems together in class and he explains things clearly – and he's really funny, too, so that's why we all like the subject.

Charlotte: I thought maths was quite easy when I had my first class and I loved trying to find the answers! I study at school with a really friendly group of girls in my class and we help each other and talk about our homework. Mrs Sams, my teacher, sometimes says we're too noisy, but she knows we're working hard! I love science, too, and I understand it much better now because my maths has improved.

Tina: My dad teaches Maths at a college, so he's pleased I like it now. He says when I'm older I could study in his classes! So I'm thinking about that. Maths will help me to study science at a high level, too. But for now I'm just happy when I can do things like help my grandma count her money when we're shopping. My maths teacher is nice, but I don't know many people in my class. That means I work hard and don't chat!

Part 3: Questions 14 – 18

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Joanna Middleton – A Young Gymnast

Do you have to train a lot, Joanna?
Yes! I usually get up at 6 o'clock and go running. I don't run with my friends. It's great to have some time to myself in the morning. After that, I have breakfast. Then Dad takes me to the gym. I train for 20 hours over six days and rest on Sunday. I often spend full days at the gym. I do different things there. Sometimes I dance or do other exercises. I like it because every day there's something different to do.

Is it difficult to do your school work as well?
Yes, it is. My teachers are lovely and they know the situation. It's true that I'm not at school every day. But I try to do as much work as I can. I'm sad that I can't spend more time with my classmates. They're fun.

What do you do in your free time?
I love being with my family. My brother also does sport – for him it's football – but we both have Sunday afternoons free. So we often go for picnics with Mum and Dad in the mountains near my home. We also like watching TV together, and of course, I always have homework to do.

Tell us more about the things you like.
My friends and I like shopping! I live in a village, so I get the bus to town and meet them there. Then we visit our favourite shops and we usually have a hot chocolate.
