How Smartphones Have Changed Our Lives

Ten years ago, people used cell phones mostly for making phone calls and sending short text messages. Back then, if you needed to find a new address, you had to carry a paper map or ask someone on the street. Today, smartphones are completely different. They are small computers used for working, studying, and staying connected with friends around the world.

In the past, travelers always carried a separate camera, an alarm clock, and a music player in their bags. Nowadays, a single phone is used to take high-quality photos, wake you up in the morning, and play your favorite songs. However, having so much technology also brings some problems. Many experts say that people spend too much time looking at screens. If you check your phone right before going to bed, you might have trouble sleeping well.

What about the future? Technology experts believe that smartphones will become even smarter. In a few years, phones are going to use more artificial intelligence to organize our schedules and translate languages in real time. Still, remember this rule: you mustn't let technology replace real conversations with your family and friends!

1. What did people mainly use cell phones for ten years ago?

A) Studying and working online
B) Calling people and sending text messages
C) Translating languages in real time

A) They are too expensive for students.
B) Their cameras do not take good photos.
C) People spend too much time on screens.
D) They cannot wake you up in the morning.

4. What might happen if you check your phone right before bed?

A) You will organize your schedule better.
B) You might have difficulty sleeping well.
C) Your battery will run out quickly.
D) You will wake up early the next day.

5. How will smartphones change in the future?

A) They will become bigger and heavier.
B) They are going to stop using the internet.
C) They are going to use more artificial intelligence.
D) People will only use them for phone calls.

6. What advice does the author give at the end of the text?

A) You must buy a new phone every year.
B) You mustn't let technology replace real conversations.
C) You should never use phones for studying.
D) You must turn off your phone during the day.

b) Read the following interview with a travel photographer and decide if the statements below are True (T) or False (F).

Preparing for a New Adventure

Hi! My name is Lucas, and I have lived in Toronto for three years. Next month, I am going to move to Montreal because I got a new job at a restaurant there. I have worked as a chef since 2022, and I love preparing international dishes.

Before I leave Toronto, I have a lot of things to do. First, I need to pack my kitchen equipment and clothes. Second, I must buy a warm winter coat because winters in Montreal are freezing! If I don't buy a good coat soon, I will be very cold in December. Also, I am going to take French classes online. Many people in Montreal speak English, so I might not need French every day, but learning it will definitely help me make new friends.

1. _____ Lucas has lived in Toronto since 2022.
2. _____ He is going to move to Montreal next month for a new job.
3. _____ Lucas works as a chef and enjoys cooking international food.
4. _____ He already bought a warm winter coat for December.
5. _____ If Lucas doesn't get a warm coat, he will feel very cold in winter.
6. _____ Lucas thinks learning French will help him make new friends.
