E Reading

My family's differences

by Nora Batton

My family and I all look different. Let me tell you about how we look.

My dad has got short fair hair. Have I got fair hair, too? No, I haven't. I've got red hair, but it is short. So, has my mum got red hair? No, she hasn't. She's got long dark hair. Has my brother got red hair? Yes, he has, but it's long! My sister has got dark hair, but her hair is short.

So what about our eyes? Well, I've got green eyes. My dad has got green eyes, too, but his eyes are dark green and mine are light green. My mum has got brown eyes, like her hair. My brother has got brown eyes and he's got glasses, too. My sister has got blue eyes.

Read the text. Which people in her family does Nora describe? Tick (✓) the correct option.
