MY VISIT TO A FUTURE HOUSE

Last week, I visited a special exhibition about future houses. It was the most (1) _____ thing I've ever seen!

LIVEWORKSHEETS

The first house was built (2) _____ the ocean floor. People could watch fish swimming outside their windows. The house had its own oxygen system, so residents could breathe normally. Living there (3) _____ be like staying in an aquarium!

The second house could fly! It moved from place to place using giant propellers. The guide said this house was perfect for people who loved (4) _____. Inside, everything was automatic. The refrigerator ordered food when it was empty. The beds made themselves every morning. There were (5) _____ robots than furniture in the living room!

My favorite was the eco-house. It produced its own food, water, and energy. The walls were made of special glass that changed from clear to dark when needed. The bathroom had a smart mirror that checked your health every day. Even the toilet (6) _____ water – it turned waste into fertilizer for the garden!

I can't wait to live in houses like these someday. The future looks amazing!

HOUSES OF THE FUTURE

In 2050, people will live in amazing houses with smart technology. These houses will be very different from today's homes.

Sky houses will float 100 meters above the ground. They will use magnetic energy to stay in the air. People will travel between houses using flying cars or sky bridges. These houses will have glass floors, so residents can see the city below. The best thing is there will be no noise from traffic.

Underwater houses will be built in the ocean. They will have strong glass walls to watch sea animals swim by. Special machines will make fresh air from seawater. People living there will eat fresh seafood every day. Children will go to school by submarine.

Smart eco-houses will be on land but completely green. They will grow food on the roof and walls. Solar panels will provide all electricity. The houses will collect rainwater for drinking and washing. All waste will become fertilizer for plants. The temperature inside will always be perfect.
