What were you doing the last weekend?

We use past progressive to describe an action that was in progress in the past.

Example: They were resting in the hotel the last weekend.

we also use past progressive to describe two actions in progress at the same time.

Example: I was swimming in the sea while my best friend was reading a book in the sand.

we use past progressive and past simple to describe actions that were interrupted by another action.

Example: Maria was reading in the beach when Carlos called.

1. Read the next story and answer the following questions using the past progressive

A weekend on the beach
