

Bilbo Baggins

The Hobbit (1937) is a famous fantasy book. People still love reading it today. It's about the adventures of a hobbit called Bilbo Baggins. Hobbits were small, peaceful creatures. They lived quietly in the Shire. Bilbo had a comfortable home there in a hobbit hole. Soon, though, all that changed when Gandalf the Wizard visited the Shire. He invited Bilbo on a journey to help the dwarves of Middle-earth get back their lost gold. The hobbit hated the idea at first but finally agreed to go. He and thirteen dwarves set off on a long, dangerous journey. They fought scary trolls and giant spiders; many times, they almost got lost. Once, they entered a cave in the mountains. There, Bilbo met Gollum. Gollum was an evil creature. He lived in the dark. He also had a magic ring; it made its wearer invisible! Bilbo stole the ring and continued on his way. At the end of the adventure, the dwarves got their gold back and Bilbo returned home happily. He did not know then about the evil powers of the ring in his pocket. What happened to the ring in the end is the story of another book, The Lord of the Rings.

Przetłumacz:

1. Adventure -
2. Creature-
3. Dwarf-
4. Cave-
5. Invisible-

Odpowiedz na pytania pełnym zdaniem. (Pamiętaj, że w odpowiedzi czasownik zmieni formę na czas przeszły) 1. lose-lost, 2. zdanie bez zmian, 3. live-lived

1. What did the dwarves lose?

.....

2. How many dwarves went on a journey?

.....

3. Where did Gollum live?

.....

Right, wrong or doesn't say? (wpisz R,W or DS)

1. „The Hobbit” is still a popular book.
2. Gandalf didn't live in the Shire.
3. Bilbo fought Gollum to get the ring.
4. After the adventure, Bilbo never wore the ring again.