

Name :

Class :

THE EXIT TICKET OF NARRATIVE TEXT

Use this exit card at the end of the lesson to help personalize your understanding towards the material!

END OF LESSON EXIT CARD

How do you feel about the lesson? Choose one :

What do you know about Narrative text?

Choose one, What is the purpose of Narrative Text?

To entertain

To Inform

TO entertain

Drag and drop your answer, use details from the text to support your answer !

Text Organization

How is the text organized?

Cause & Effect

Chronological Order

Compare & Contrast

Problem & Solution

Use details from the text to support your answer

According to the video, can you mentioned 5 examples of Narrative text types!

ELEMENTS OF NARRATIVE STORY

PLOT

SETTING

THEME

CHARACTER

Moral Message

Match the elements of narrative into it's definition!

Narrative story elements	Definition/Statement
	When and where the story take place
	People in the story and it's characteristic.
	Structure organization that made up a story
	Main topic or ideas of one story
	We use Metaphors, Similes and adjectives to make the characters are more vivid.

The Five Parts of a Story

Exposition
Rising Action
Climax
Falling Action
Resolution

Based on the model of Narrative example, please identify the narrative generic structure in the story below!

The servant and the prince

A folktale from Mongolia

Once upon a time, in Mongolia, there lived a cruel prince. He was very wicked and unkind to his servant. The servant was very wise and hardworking. The prince got pleasure out of hitting his servant and would beat the servant black and blue without any fault of his.

One day, the prince and the servant were going to a neighbouring country. The prince rode a strong and sturdy horse while the servant followed him on a frail horse.

They had to travel a long distance. After a few hours, the sky became overcast and loud thunder could be heard at a distance behind them. The prince was a coward and was very frightened by the clap of thunder. He looked around for a place to hide but found none. His servant had not caught up with him yet. So the prince made his strong horse walk slower and waited for the servant. When he saw the servant, he shouted, "Don't lag behind me, you fool! Keep up with me!"

The servant replied, "How can I keep pace with you? My horse is so weak." On hearing this, the prince was furious and he roared, "It means you have not fed the horse well. It is all your fault. What were you doing all this time, lazy man?" Then he struck the servant on his head as hard as he could.

At that very moment, there was a streak of lightning in the sky. The prince was so frightened that he closed his eyes tightly. The servant saw this and suddenly had a brilliant idea. He took advantage of the opportunity and swinging his riding whip, knocked the prince on his head. The prince thought that lightning had struck him. He was terrified.

