One of Edison's first jobs was sending messages by telegraph. Telegraphy was the only way to send messages quickly in those days because there weren't any telephones. When Alexander Graham Bell invented the first telephone in 1876, Edison improved it by inventing an early microphone.

In 1877 Edison made the first phonograph, a machine that recorded and reproduced sound. A year later, he invented the light bulb. In 1889, he invented the kinetoscope, a machine to show moving pictures.

Edison invented more than 1000 things during his life. When he died in 1931, many Americans switched off their lights for one minute in his honour.
