

The Three Early Civilizations

Use the following information to complete the table.

The timeline shows that early civilisations began when people developed the use of bronze.

The earliest civilisation in the world developed in Sumer. This was in a part of the world that is now southern Iraq.

The Indus Valley civilisation developed around cities on the Indus River. This is in modern-day Pakistan and northern India.

The Shang Dynasty civilisation was based around the Yellow River in part of China.
