Listening | Part 2

- 1 Work in pairs. You are going to hear Gary giving a talk about adventure racing as part of a school project. Read this text and discuss what type of information you need for each gap.

Adventure racing

Gary participated with his (1) in his first adventure race last year.

Adventure racing became popular as a sport in the (2), although there were races before that. In many adventure races, there must be a balance of (3) in each team.

Gary thinks teams which contain (4) are more successful.

Although some races take place in urban areas, most happen in (5)

Teams are really alone on the race because there are almost no (6) in the area where they race.

Gary's ambition is to do a race called the (7) Race in New Zealand.

Some races may take up to (8) to complete.

Gary thinks (9) must be the hardest thing in long races.

Adventure racing is considered (10) by many athletes from other sports as well.

- 2  24 Listen and, for questions 1–10, complete the sentences with a word or short phrase.

Exam advice

Before you listen:

- look at the incomplete sentences, including any words which come after the gap.
- think about what type of information you need for each gap (a date, a job, etc.).
- think about what type of word(s) you need for each gap (a noun (phrase), verb (phrase), etc.).

- 3 Work in groups.

- What do you think are the advantages of racing in teams?
- What are the main difficulties of adventure racing?

Reading and Use of English | Part 6

- 1 Work in pairs. You are going to read an article by an adventure racer. Before you read the whole article, read the title and the subheading in italics. What do you expect to find out by reading the article?
- 2 Read the article quite carefully and make a short note in the margin about the subject of each paragraph. An example has been done for you.

Are you ready for an adventure race?

Rebecca Rusch has competed in several Eco-Challenge races, where teams of four men and women race non-stop over a 500 km course which includes trekking, canoeing, horse riding, scuba diving, mountaineering and mountain biking.

perience

Obviously, I did not feel so ready for the early races in my career as the races we have done recently. There is a lot to be said for just gaining experience. Just getting out there and getting your feet wet teaches you the right skills and attitude.

It's often not the most physically prepared or the fittest teams that win. The ones who come first are the teams who race intelligently and adapt to unexpected situations.

1 The only way to develop those qualities is to get out and race or do long training trips with your team-mates and friends.

Adventure races are such a huge challenge that when you enter a race you always think, "Am I ready? Did I train enough? Did I forget something?" I remember one race in particular, my very first Eco-Challenge and only my second race ever. 2 A 24-hour race seemed like an eternity to me. My background was cross-country running in high school and college where a two- or three-mile race seemed long. Most of my fear was due to lack of experience and knowledge. I really had no idea what I was getting into because I had never done a 24-hour race before. 3

In preparation for Australia, I tried to approach my training in a methodical way. Looking back, I wasn't methodical at all. In fact, what I did involved simply running, biking and paddling a kayak as much and as hard as I could. I was also working at the same time. In reality, I was training a couple of hours a day during the week to get fit and at weekends training with the team for perhaps four hours. 4 I spent the rest of the time worrying about how slow I was.

So, we went to Australia and entered the race. We didn't plan a strategy at all, but just ran as fast as possible from the start. I just tried to keep up with my team-mates, who were more experienced than I was. 5 It was a furious 36 hours. We arrived at a few of the check points in first place and were among the top five. I knew we didn't belong there.

To cut a long story short, two of my team-mates decided not to continue the race after just a day and a half. One was suffering hallucinations and feeling ill. He was just too tired to carry on. 6 We had been going so fast that he felt uncomfortable asking us to stop so he could take care of his blisters. The other two of us, feeling fresh still, had to drop out with the rest of our team. Four days later we watched in disappointment as the winners crossed the finishing line. I knew that our team had not been prepared or realistic about the pace we could keep, but not finishing that race was the most valuable lesson I could have learned.

I promised then to come back one day and finish the race. That was seven years (and thousands of race miles) ago.

Grammar

Infinitive and verb + -ing

1 These sentences (some of which are from the article you have just read) are examples of when to use the infinitive and when to use the verb + -ing form. Decide which sentence (a-i) is an example (1-10) for each of the rules on this page. You can use some of the sentences as examples for more than one rule.

- Not finishing that race was the most valuable lesson I could have learned.
- I promised then to come back one day and finish the race.
- In fact, what I did involved simply running, biking and paddling a kayak as much and as hard as I could.
- There is a lot to be said for just gaining experience.
- I was training a couple of hours a day during the week to get fit.
- There are medical teams to take care of injured runners.
- He was just too tired to carry on.
- It's no use entering a race if you haven't prepared properly.
- Two of my team-mates decided not to continue the race after just a day and a half.

2 Six sentences have been removed from the article. Read the sentences below one by one. As you read each sentence:

- underline words and phrases which you think refer to something in the article
 - decide which gap (1-6) it fits.
- There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use.

- Another had severe problems with his feet.
- I kept my mouth shut and followed them.
- We won it even so, and were invited to compete in the Eco-Challenge in Australia.
- His encouragement helped me to complete it.
- That was how much I had prepared.
- When I did it, I felt totally afraid and unprepared.
- To achieve this, you have to be flexible and patient.

3 Work in pairs.

- Do you prefer team sports or individual sports? Why?

Exam advice

- Pay attention to pronouns (we, that, it, etc.), adverbs (however, even so, etc.) and other reference words/phrases in the sentences which have been removed. Decide what they refer to before you place the sentence in a gap.
- Work methodically through the sentences, reading them and placing them one by one when you're sure they are right.

Using the infinitive and verb + -ing

The infinitive is used:

- to say why you do something (sentence)
- to say why something exists (sentence)
- after too and enough (sentence)
- after these verbs (there is a more complete list on page 166): agree, appear, ask, arrange, decide, expect, fail, help, promise (sentences and)
- The negative is formed by placing not before the infinitive (sentence)

The verb + -ing is used:

- after prepositions (sentence)
- as subjects or objects of a verb (sentence)
- after these verbs (there is a more complete list on page 166): admit, enjoy, finish, involve, mind, postpone, risk, suggest (sentence)
- after these expressions: it's no good, it's not worth, it's no use, it's a waste of time, spend time, can't help (sentence)
- The negative is formed by placing not before the verb + -ing (sentence)

→ page 166 Language reference: Infinitive and verb + -ing forms

2 Complete these sentences by writing the verb in brackets in the correct form in the gaps.

- Carlos has suggested (start) a five-a-side football team. What do you think?
- I don't think the weather is good enough (go) sailing this afternoon.
- We've decided (hold) the race early in the morning before it gets too hot.
- (train) is essential if you want to perform well.
- I've joined a gym (get) myself fitter.
- If you train too hard, you risk (injure) yourself before the race.
- It's no good (run) in a marathon if you're not wearing the right shoes.
- She was disqualified from the race for (push) an opponent.

3 Circle the correct form in italics in each of these questions.

- What sport would you advise someone to do / doing in order to make friends?
- What sport would you choose to learn / learning if you had plenty of time and money?
- If someone needed to get fit, what sport would you suggest to do / doing?
- What sports do you avoid to take part in / taking part in and why?

4 Work in pairs. Ask and answer the questions in Exercise 3, giving your opinions.

5  Candidates often make mistakes with the infinitive and verb + -ing. Some of these sentences are correct. Find and correct the mistakes.

- Students are not allowed running along school corridors.
- Few people choose spending their time taking exercise.
- The Internet means that we spend more time sitting at home, but we cannot imagine to live without it.
- Being fit and healthy does not mean to run 20 km a day.
- Many students would prefer to cycle to school than go by school bus.
