Water is important for us because we need it for drinking and farming, but in the most of the kingdom , there is only about 10 centimeters of rain in a year.

There are five ways of increasing our water . First , we can use dams. Every winter , a lot of water runs through our valleys to the sea. We can stop this water by building high walls across the valleys. There are now several dams in the kingdom . The biggest is Wadi Jizan.

We can take water to dry areas by digging canals . Water runs along these canals and reaches land which has no water . This is called irrigation.

We can also use the water in the sea . There is too much salt in it for drinking or for farming. But the government has factories for taking the salt out of sea water.

In inland areas , we also get water by digging deep wells. These go down to underground lakes . Some of the water has been in these lakes for thousands of years.

Lastly. We use water towers for storing water . These stop the water from evaporating . The most famous one is in Riyadh.
