Just in Time

Yesterday, I bought a great new video game. I played it last night after I finished my homework. I had so much fun that I played for hours. When I looked at the clock and realized that it was very late, I went to bed.

Today in school, I spent the whole day looking forward to playing my new game again. Then, on the bus ride home, I fell asleep and I dreamed that I was playing it.

Suddenly, I heard my friend saying, "Wake up! Wake up!"

I opened my eyes and felt confused. I said, "Oh no! Did I miss my bus stop?"

Luckily, I woke up just in time, and I got off the bus at the right place. The bus driver waved goodbye to me as I hurried off the bus. Now it's time to go play my new game!

53. What is the story about?
 - A. a bus driver
 - B. a new game
 - C. a day at school
54. What happened to the writer on the bus ride home from school?
 - A. He fell asleep.
 - B. He played a video game.
 - C. He did his homework.
55. How does the writer feel about the video game?
 - A. It is fun to play.
 - B. It is expensive.
 - C. It is easy to win.
56. In the second sentence of the last paragraph, which phrase best replaces the word hurried?
 - A. moved quickly
 - B. looked around
 - C. sat down

Summer fun

Kelly was excited about Maplewood City's summer festival. Each year at the festival, people get together to celebrate the start of summer. They eat food, dance to music, and play games there.

While Kelly was jogging in the park before the event, she saw her friend Tom. "Are you going to the festival tonight?" she asked. "I hear there will be fireworks!"

"I am! I didn't know about the fireworks, though. That's great!" answered Tom. As soon as Tom said that, it started to rain.

"Oh no!" said Kelly. "I wonder if they will cancel the fireworks."

"I hope not," replied Tom. "Well, I better go—we're getting wet!"

"Okay! See you later!" said Kelly.

By evening, though, the rain stopped, and everyone in Maplewood City enjoyed a wonderful summer festival that ended with an awesome fireworks show.
