

I'm sick to _____ of eating breakfast on my own
Starting out my daily blues (hmm)
I'm sick to death of _____ coffee on my phone (oh)
Scrolling through pictures of you
I'd like to say that maybe we could _____ it out
But I know that it's no use

If I ever find _____ half as good as you
I think maybe that will do (oh)

I kissed a stranger in the hallway late last night
He was wearing _____ shoes
I asked him when he kissed me, could he close his eyes?
But he just looked at me confused
And people say my _____ are too high
But I'm not asking for the moon

If I ever find anyone half as good as you
I think maybe that would do
If I ever find anyone half as good as you
I think maybe that would do

Oh, I'm so sick of _____ here
So sick of counting tears
Comparing everyone to you
Oh, oh
Oh, I'm so sick of waiting here
So _____
My suspicions are you're laying there and thinking of me too

I learned the lyrics yesterday to all your _____ -
There was one I couldn't do
I think the lyric went
"You'll miss me when I'm gone"
But the chords, I was _____
I'd ask you 'round and you could tell me where I'm wrong
But then I know you'd just refuse, oh
(Refuse)

If I ever find anyone half as good as you
I think maybe that would do (oh)
If I ever find anyone half as good as you
I think maybe that would do
