

PRACTICE 21.10 Choosing the Correct Irregular Verbs

Read the sentences. Then, choose and write the form of the verb in parentheses that correctly completes each sentence.

EXAMPLE I have (shook, shaken) the bottle.

ANSWER shaken

1. George (did, done) as much as he could.
2. Yesterday I (ran, run) five miles.
3. I have (spoke, spoken) to him on several occasions.
4. The visitor (rang, rung) the doorbell.
5. The trucker had (drove, driven) hundreds of miles.
6. The fog has finally (rose, risen).
7. She had (began, begun) the project.
8. Have you ever (swam, swum) in an Olympic-sized pool?
9. The owl (came, come) back to our tree.
10. Has the library board (chose, chosen) the new director yet?

PRACTICE 21.1E Using Irregular Verbs

Read the sentences. Rewrite each sentence, using the form of the verb in parentheses that correctly completes the sentence.

EXAMPLE Yesterday Sarah (fall) off her chair.

ANSWER Yesterday Sarah fell off her chair.

1. Last week our teacher (speak) about the effects of the American Revolution.
2. We had (ride) to Audubon Park on the ferry.
3. Yesterday May (sit) at the piano for hours.
4. The new cars have (got) more fuel efficient.
5. The top (spin) for nearly five minutes and finally stopped.