THE INCIDENT...

Model

THE INCIDENT ON BOND STREET

On Friday morning, while I was walking my dog in town, there was a robbery at the bank on Bond Street.

My dog was running in front of me when we heard a loud noise. Suddenly, there was smoke in the air and people were shouting and running in every direction. When I got to Bond Street, I saw a police car. A police officer was running after a man with a bag of money, and smoke was coming out of the bank.

The next day, I read an article in the newspaper about the incident. According to the article, the police officer caught the robber and arrested him. He also returned the bag of money to the bank.

Font: New English in Use. ESO 2

Partes de una historia

Título: El título debe resumir la historia completa (¡sin spoilers!) o, al menos, estar relacionado con la temática principal.

Presentación: Este es el comienzo de la historia, donde se presentan los personajes y el lugar de la acción.
-Dónde, Cuando, Qué, Quién...

Nudo: En esta parte los personajes se las ven con la acción principal y buscan maneras para resolver el argumento.

Desenlace: Aquí es donde la acción se resuelve y la historia concluye con un final, normalmente sin cabos sueltos.

https://kseacademy.com/cambridge/b1-preliminary-pet/writing/historia/#partes-de-una-historia

Write a short story:

Title: .....

Presentation

When?

What?

Who?

Nude

Conclusion

LIVEWORKSHEETS