Mary

"I think schools of the future will be open all year long. Classrooms will have a computer for every desk. I also think books and teachers will disappear in my school. I will ask the computer for information. The computer will give the information in video, sounds, and words."

Bill

"I think in twenty years travelers will get into electric cars and tell a computer where to go. In The future the computer will then drive the car down the road at 200 kilometers per hour. The computer will control the car so well it won't hit the other cars."

Steve

"I think the home of the future will also have machines controlled by computers. Your TV's will turn on automatically. You might want to view a show from another country. Viewers may also have these programs translated. And robots could clean your house for you."

How will the future be?

- 1 Will the future be completely different? Maybe. Some people say that in the future
- 2 children won't go to school. They will stay at home and will learn everything using
- 3 only their computers.
- 4 The computer will have their own voices and they will think like human beings.
- 5 Robots will do all the hard work - they will wash clothes, they will clean the house,
- 6 they will put satellites in space and they will travel to other galaxies.
- 7 People will do a lot of things without leaving home.
- 8 Will this be good or bad? Ok, in the future we will know the answer to this question.
