

My cat was hungry                      it ate fish.

I'm tired                      I didn't sleep well last night.

Dan bought lunch                      he was hungry.

Mary was sick last week                      she saw a doctor.

I was late for work this morning                      I overslept.

Sweden is a cold country                      people wear warm clothes in winter.

He didn't study                      he failed the history exam.

They weren't busy                      they helped me.

I wasn't careful                      I fell off my bike.

Sue didn't spend much money                      everything was on sale.