

Gerund or Infinitive

with change in meaning

Example: STOP Yesterday on the way home she stopped to buy groceries. (buy)

STOP

1. I hope it _____ soon.
(rain)
2. He was in such a hurry he didn't even _____ hello. (say)
3. He _____ chocolate many years ago. (eat)
4. He is so funny, he always _____ his phone. He just can't walk and talk. (answer)
5. After fifteen journalists called him to ask about the accident, he _____ his phone. And now nobody can reach him.
(answer)
6. There were a couple of problems with my last order so I think I _____ from that website and find another one.
(buy)
7. Just _____. It's not that
bad. (complain)
8. I just can't _____ about the problem. (think)
9. We've been driving for hours. Can we
_____ to the bathroom? (go)
10. Cars usually _____ people cross the street. (let)

FORGET

1. She never _____ me a birthday card. (send)
2. It is impossible to _____ the ocean for the first time. (see)
3. Yesterday I _____ my wallet.
(bring)
4. Please don't _____ your name on the top. (write)
5. I will never _____ him for as long as I live. It was such a privilege.
(meet)
6. Don't worry. I _____ you when I get there. (call)

REMEMBER

1. I need to _____ my mother. It's her birthday today. (call)
2. I'm glad you _____ a gift.
It made her very happy. (bring)
3. Why is he here??? I don't
_____ him to the party.
(invite)
4. I don't remember much from that night, but I clearly _____ cold and afraid. (be)
5. I promise, next time I go to Spain, I _____ some souvenirs. (buy)
6. I think I _____ her at the party last Friday. (see)