

"I love learning languages"

I've lived in many different countries, both in Western Europe, Middle East and now here in Hong Kong. And during all of that time, I've learned ____ or ____ different languages to one degree or another. I love learning languages. Not only are they _____ when you move to a country, I just find them fascinating.

Before I came to Hong Kong, I _____ in Barcelona, Spain, for ten years. And when I first arrived, the most important thing was being able to communicate with people locally. I don't attend _____. I don't _____. I'm particularly good in classes.

I prefer to _____ by just talking to people, finding out what I need to _____, by looking at dictionaries and _____ carefully.

