

	some-	any-	every-	no-
--	-------	------	--------	-----

things	something	anything	everything	nothing
--------	-----------	----------	------------	---------

people	somebody	anybody	everybody	nobody
--------	----------	---------	-----------	--------

	someone	anyone	everyone	no one
--	---------	--------	----------	--------

places	somewhere	anywhere	everywhere	nowhere
--------	-----------	----------	------------	---------

somebody and someone, nobody and no one etc. mean the same thing.

1 We use some-, every- and no- in affirmative sentences.

- Someone took my bag.

2 We usually use any- in questions and in negative sentences.

- I can't see my friend anywhere.

3 We can use some- in questions when we ask for permission or help, or when we expect 'Yes' answer.

- Do you feel something?

SOME-, ANY-, EVERY-, NO-

Choose the correct pronoun.

1 Joan is very clever. She knows everything / everybody about Maths.

2 Tom is going out with somebody / anybody in Year 11!

3 It's a secret. Nowhere / Nobody knows about it.

4 How can I do my homework? There isn't a pen somewhere / anywhere in this house.

5 There's nothing / something in the fridge. It's completely empty.

6 Bobbie bought somebody / something at the post office.

7 You didn't turn off the bath! There's water everywhere / somewhere!

8 It was assembly so anybody / everybody was in the school hall.

9 Can we go to a different restaurant? I don't like something / anything on this menu.

10 Where is that CD? It must be somewhere / anywhere here.

Complete the sentences. Use the words in the box.

somebody	nobody	anybody	everybody
----------	--------	---------	-----------

Woman: Good afternoon! Can I find _____ to speak to in the school, please?

Man: Oh, sorry, madam. It's four o'clock now. There isn't _____ in the school now. _____ has already gone.

W: But I want to speak _____ now.

M: Sorry. There is _____ in the building. Could you come back tomorrow morning? There you can find _____ here then.

something	nothing	anything	everything
-----------	---------	----------	------------

Mum: Do you want _____ to drink?

Son: I wouldn't like _____ now, thank you.

M: You've had _____ to drink all morning. Is _____ OK? Aren't you well?

S: Yes. _____ is OK. I'm simply not thirsty.

somewhere	nowhere	anywhere	everywhere
-----------	---------	----------	------------

Girl: I can't find my new earrings _____. But they must be _____ here. I _____ took them away. I've already looked for them _____.

Complete the words.

Is anybody at school?

In your house _____ thing is very clean.

I haven't seen Peter _____ where.

There's _____ one at the door.

Can I do any _____ to help?

You can find this every _____.

No _____ knows the answer.

'Where are you going tonight?' 'No _____ - we are going to stay at home.'

She wants to tell me some _____.

Every _____ in my family has blue eyes.

I don't know _____ body who plays rugby.

Every _____ in this shop is very cheap.

My mum wants to live _____ where hot.

Grammar and Vocabulary. Write your own examples for:

something sour: _____

something sweet: _____

something interesting: _____

something boring: _____

somewhere warm: _____

somewhere very hot: _____

something useful: _____

something useless: _____

somebody nice: _____

somebody intelligent: _____

