

1. Match the questions to the answers.

What's your name?

It's on the tenth of December.

How old are you?

They're on the table.

Where is your umbrella?

No, but I like asparagus.

Where are your glasses?

I'm 11.

When is your birthday?

Molly.

Can you spell your name, please?

Yes, I've got a guinea pig.

Have you got any pets?

M-O-L-L-Y

Do you like broccoli?

It's under the bed.

2. Write the missing prepositions: on, in, under, behind, between, in front of, next to,

The dog is the chair.

The bookshelf is the cats.

The cat is the computer.

The cat is the box.

The cat is the box.

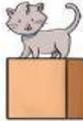

The cat is the boxes.

The cat is the box.

The cat is the box.

The cat is the box.

The cat is the box.

3. True or false? Look at the map.

The school is opposite the house. True / False

The library is opposite the post office. True / False

The post office is next to the swimming pool. True / False

The park is next to the house. True / False

The swimming pool is opposite the school. True / False

